OLD FERRY SLIP DAMAGED BY FIRE

Cigarette Stump Believed to Have Caused Blaze Last Night

DAMAGE ABOUT $2,500

Firemen Save Big Frame Structure From Destruction—Crowd of 5,000 Spectators Attracted by Blaze.

The abandoned ferry slip of the old-Washington-Alexandria Ferry at the foot of King street, was partially destroyed by fire shortly after 7 o'clock last night.

The fire started in the east end of the structure and before the blaze was subdued damage estimated at $2,500 was done.

When the firemen arrived on the scene dense black clouds of smoke were issuing from the building, a long one story frame affair. So dense was the smoke that it kept the throng of sightseers at bay. Approximately 5,000 persons were attracted to the fire, among whom were many persons enroute to church.

The origin of the fire has not been determined although it is supposed that someone entered the place and dropped a lighted cigarette stump.

The building is owned by the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company and the loss is said to be covered by insurance.

The firemen worked an hour before completely subdueing the fire. Fortunately ther was no wind blowing at the time, otherwise the firemen would have experienced difficulty in keeping the fire confined to the ferry slip.

Directly adjoining on the west side of the place is the wholesale house of H. Kirk and Son. At no time, however, did the fire menace this building.

MARRIAGE MERE LEASE, SAYS ENGLISH WOMAN

London, June 23.—Lady Beecham, wife of Sir Thomas Beecham, director of Covent Garden operas, in the Weekly Dispatch, says:

"Modern marriage is becoming curiously like a contract to lease a house. At the end of say three years, when one of the contracting parties desires a change, the agreement is ended, and the relationship between land'rd and tenant ceases. The break up of home life by the war has also played an important part.

"When the present disturbance has subsided, I believe woman will realize that she cannot have freedom without losing freedom for herself and her children, and by this knowledge she will reform her course."

Lady Beecham's remarks were occasioned by the recent surfeit of London divorces, more than 800 cases, many in high life, being called in the divorce court this session.

Washington, D. C., June 23.—Wayne B. Mr. Wheeler also urged the committee to recommend legislation limiting the amount of alcohol in medicinal liquids and compounds, whether medicated, proprietary or patented, to one-half of 1 per cent.

Mr. Wheeler told the committee one purpose of prohibition advcates was to eliminate near beer saloons, through which there would be the possibility of evading the dry laws."

HUNS ACCEPT PEACE TERMS

Ballot in National Assembly Ayes 237, Noes 138

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Protest Against Responsibility For War and Against Giving Up German Citizens For Trial.

Zurich, June 23.—A dispatch from Weimar today reported that Chancellor Bauer had promoted Dr. Haniel von Haimhausen from secretary to president of the German peace delegation, giving him full power to complete negotiations and sign the treaty Von Haimhausen is in Versailles.

Paris, June 23.—The allies promptly refused a request for a 48-hour extension of the time limit for acceptance for the peace treaty, received from the Germans this morning.

(The seven-day time limit expires at 7 o'clock this evening—2 p. m. New York time.)

Previously the allies had received a note from Gustav Adolph Bauer, the new German chancellor, saying Germany would sign the treaty because she is forced to do so, but making certain reservations.

To this note the allies replied that the time for discussion had passed and that Germany must accept the terms without qualification or reservation.

Weimar, June 23.—The German National Assembly, by a vote of 237 to 138, yesterday decided to sign the peace terms. The vote was taken at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The action of the assembly makes it probable that the treaty will be formally signed either today or tomorrow. It is now only a question of the time it will take to transport the German delegates who will affix their signatures to the pact.

The Bauer government is sending a note to the allies declaring that Germany accepts the treaty of peace but protests against fixing the responsibility for the war upon Germany ,and also protests against giving up German citizens for trial.

Ten minutes after voting for acceptance of the peace terms, the National Assembly voted its confidence in the cabinet, the vote being: Yes 236; no 89; noncommital, 68.

One hundred and twenty delegates were absent.

The new ministry is expected to send a new peace delegation to Versailles at once to sign the pact.

The head of this delegation will be Dr. Hermann Mueller, the majority socialist leader, who is foreign minister in the new government. Count von Bernstorff, who had been slated for this post, was found to hold much the same views as his cousin, Count von Brockdorff- Rantzau. Besides, it was deemed unwise to send him to Versailles in view of the antagonism against him in American and allied peace quarters.

The democrats were refused representation in the new government which is composed, therefore, only of socialists and centrists.

THE GERMANS WILL SIGN

Few observant people have entertained any doubt that the Germans would sign the peace treaty since the armistice last November. The signing of the drastic terms of the armistice proved conclusively that while the Huns would kick at certain provisions of the treaty, they would sign eventually. This they have concluded to do.

After receiving a vote of confidence the new German Cabinet will ask that the Allies waive their demands for the surrender of the former German Emperor and for Germany to acknowledge esponsibility for the war, but, no matter what their reply, the Peace Treaty will be signed, according to advices from Weimar to the American peace delegation in Paris.

The Paris newspapers commenting on the resignation of the Scheidemann Ministry are unanimous in believing that unless something unforeseen happens Germany will sign the treaty.

In circles close to the Peace Conference it is declared that under no pretext of holding a plebiscite or of a ministerial crisis would the Allies give Germany further time in which to make known her decision.

As a contemporary says, the Germans are beaten now by their own acknowledgment, whatever that may be worth. The defeat will be ground into them as the peace terms begin to operate. They rely upon the cupidity of the allies to bring about a quick resumption of commercial relatins. Thousands of these deadly enemies actually plan to come to the United States immediately to escape the taxes that will be imposed in Germany to pay war indemnities. Will Congress leave the gates open to these enemies, who are more dangerous than anarchists? The Germans are coming here to make money and escape the punishment for their crimes. Keep them out!"

HUN PERFIDY

The sinking of German dreadnaughts, battleships, destroyers, etc., after the same had been delivered up to the allies, according to the terms of the armistice, has brought forth a cry of disgust. According to the principle adopted at the beginning of the late war, German men-of-war, like Napoleon's Old Guard, were never to surrender. It will be remembered that in some cases when submarines were captured it was ascertained that the officers and crews had resolved to commit suicide rather than be aken. In several instances they did shoot themselves, preferring to die by their own hands than to fall into the hands of the allies.

Shortly after the war was precipitated, it will be remembered, a British squadron encountered a Hun squadron in the South Pacific Ocean. The German ships were soon placed in a helpless and hopeless condition. but when called upon to surrender they hoisted a defiant signal and the ships and their crews were sent to the bottom by the British vessels.

Their latest act of defiance was committed when they sank the German ships which they surrendered in the fall. They have shown themselves to be disciples of Captain Kid, and are capable of Scutling ships as well as cutting throats.

MENACE OF ILLITERACY

We had supposed that we were a literate people. In the army camps in which the tests of illiteracy were given—and these tests consisted in simply getting ideas from a news paper and writing a letter home—one man out of five was found to be illiterate.

George Drayton Stayer, in Leslie's, says "those facts astonished most of us. The army tests would seem to indicate probably from fifteen to twenty million people in the United States who are unable to read and write. It is to this group that the appeal of the anarchist or Bolshevist is being continualy made. Men who cannot read are influenced by the damagogue who would destroy our democratic institutions. They are a menace which can only be removed through a program of education.

There are in the United States more than thriteen million people of foreign birth. Some of these are good American citizens, but a great majority of them have as yet little or no appreciation of American institutions or ideals. We have, for the most part, educated their children, while we have segregated and exploited the older brothers and sisters and fathers and mothers. We have often succeeded in Americanizling the children to the point where they have nothing but contempt for their fathers and mothers. Many of these people came to America hoping to enter into our social life and to work with us in the development of our democratic society. If education is provided for them they may contribute largely to the development of our life. If we fail to Americanize them they may actually prove to be the group who, because they do not understand our government or our institutions, will follow the lead of those selfish and short-sighted individuals who seek to gain their own temporary advantage through an attack upon society as at present constituted. We need a very much more significant program of education as a basis for naturalization, and we need, as well, the requirement that those who do not wish to become Americans shall not continue to enjoy the opportunities provided in our land."

THE GERMANS WILL SIGN

The Germans all said that they couldn't be beat,
They swaggered around in their pride,
No nation there was who could bring them defeat,
They had licked every one which had tried!
But our brave khaki kids under them put the skids;
As a subject, they knew how to treat it.
When they came on the run, the poor frightened Hun
Turned tail and proceeded to beat it.

The Germans all thought that our men couldn't fight,
They laughed when we argued and Kicked;
But when we went over and got at them right
They learned how it felt to be licked.
For our brave khaki kids, in their funny tin lids,
Showed the Hums just the stuff they are made of,
That there isn't a nation in all of creation
That Uncle Sam's boys are afraid of.

The Germans all said this Peace cannot be signed,
They accused us of basest deceit;
It strips their resources, before and behind,
And the terms they said they would not meet.
"Our fond hopes you stirred," they grandly averred,
"If there's justice in this, we can't find it!"
But according to my word, when the last bleat was heard
You found that the Germans had signed it.

FALLING BACK ON ROOT

Mr. Root's letter to Senator Lodge may be taken as the signal for retreat on the part of the Republican forces in the Scante from the Knox resolution trenches. It has been evident for some time that the position was untenable. Now the word has been given by the Republican chief of staff to fall back to a safer and stronger line.

The paramount demand in the United States, as well as in other parts of the world, is insurance against such an international catastrophe as the old diplomacy brought upon the world in 1914. That demand is too deep, too strong, too insistent to be ignored. It is the principal, the all important, thing which the masses of the people here and elsewhere have looked forward to as the result of victory over Germany. The fruit that mankind expects and will have from this war is peace, and in the League of Nations it sees that peace. All the logic that can be fonged in the brain factories of reason cannot prevail against this cry for assurance and deliverance, this universal longing for emancipation from the slavery, tyranny, suffering and horrors of war. The peace treaty may sin against consistency and justice in more than one particular; it may compromise on some rights and tolerate some wrongs. Such mistakes may be in time be remedied. They will be accepted as negligible by the millions behind the Paris delegates, provided that the people get the chief thing at stake—the eLague of Nations. Mistakes in the peace treaty may be corrected, but there will be no remedy for the loss of this international covenant. That is the vital point in the whole international drama. Without that everything else becomes not only of no importance out a mockery that might well drive men to despair."—(Baltimore Sun.

FOR THE LITTLE TROOPS

Roses for the little troops
Who bravely fought in France,
Roses nodding everywhere
Meet their passing glance,
Roses red and white so sweet,
Make a carpet for their feet.
Sunshine for the little troops
Who gladly gave their all;
Gleaming, golden sunshine,
O'er their pathway fall,
With the splendor of their rays
Blot out all the dreary days
Kisses for the little troops,
Returning home today,
Kisses glad as birds are,
When summer's come to stay
Sunshine, kisses and flowers
Stay with them through all the hours.

THE SPECIAL SESSION

Legislation to Reduce Executive Power uggested at Special Session

A dispatch from Richmond in the Baltimore News Says: "While the understanding at the time of the call for the special session of the Legislature was being signed contemplated only road legislation, the talk now is that general matters will be taken up, some of the hints being that drastic measures are in contemplation. Failure of the Governor to convene the Legislature on his own initiative has created bitterness in some quarters, and legislation is suggested to reduce the power of the Govrnor in ertain directions. If the members attending the special session are convinced that the time is not propitious for suggested new laws these will be allowed to sleep until January, when the new body will come here for a 60-day term.

Governor Davis, after refusing to convene the Legislature, lost no time in passing on the matter when the call was presented, and he also adhered to his determination not to have the members come here till enough time had elapsed to allow for the special election to fill the vacancies in both branches—three in the Senate and seven in the House. This election will be held August 5, the same day as the general primary to nominate all members of both branches, and just as soon as these returns can be certified and approved the members will be sworn in and the special session will be under way beginning August 18. Thirty days is the constitutional limit for the session.

Brussels, June 23.—Cardinal Mercier in granting a special audience at Malines to Frederick J. Collins, an American publisher, authorized the publication of the following statement apropos of President Wilson's visit to Belgium:

"America will be rendening an invaluable service to Belgium in the early fulfillment of President Wilson's promises of practical assistance in the way of raw materials, machinery and credit. In the little city of Malines we have 30,000 workers, most of whom are involuntarily idle because they have no material or machinery.

"Since the armistice was signed reconstruction in Belgium has been going forward at an astounding rate. During the war Belgium needed charity and received it. Now all Belgium requires is a chance to work. Of course, private charity will always be needed in Belgium as in other countries, but the time has passed when Belgium as a country asks for charity What Belgium needs most are the three essentials mentioned by President Wilson, namely raw materials, machinery and financial co-operation.

"If the practical assistance outlined by President Wilson were available immediately these people and hundreds of thousands of others would gladly begin work. Even under present conditions I am astonished as I go about the country to see the remarkable progress our people are making in rebuilding their homes and railroads and in continuing to operate small industrial plants. On the road between Malines and Brussels and between Malines and Louvain fully two-thirds of the houses at least partially destroyed by the Germans have been rebuilt.

KILLED BY VICIOUS HORSE

Wilmington, Del., June 23.—Elmer Highfield, 45 years old, was attacked by a horse in the stable of W. C. Matthews, at Hockessin, where he was employed, and died in the hospital late Friday night.

There were no witnesses to the tragedy Highfield was found unconscious in the stable, with a fractured skull, a leg broken in two places and bruised all over his body. He is supposed to have entered the stall to curry the horse, and was knocked unconscious by a kick in the head, after which the animal trampled him as he lay on the floor.

WILL JAIL OHIO EDITOR

Federal Judge Confiscates New Voice Edition Urging Strike.

Toledo June 23.—On the ground that the editors violated terms of an injunction issued in the Willys-Overland labor controversy Federal Judge Killits Saturday confiscated an entire issue of the New Voice soon after it came off the press. Recently the paper contained an attack on the injunction power. The confiscated issue urges a general strike.

The Court announced that early next week he will sentence Alex Schwarzenfeld member of the board of control of the New Voice, to a penitentiary. Decision came after Schwarzenfeld, in Court for contempt, announced that he "stood pat" on whatever appeared in the paper. Two other members of the New Voic staff John Kavany and Walter Voelkner, are in jail. All three are members of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Council.

GERMANS SINK NAVAL VESSELS

Dreadnaughts, Cruisers and Destroyers Sunk at Scapa Flow

ADMIRAL GAVE ORDER

Six Men Killed and Ten Wounded by British Warship—Sinking Ships a Serious Offense.

London, June 23.—Nine dreadnaughts, five battle cruisers, five light cruisers and twenty-seven destroyers of the German fleet surrendered to the allies were sunk by mutinous German crews at their moorings in Scapa Flow in the Orkneys Saturday afternoon.

Seeing the Germans hoisting the old imperial colors on the German vessels, British warships anchored nearby signalled the Germans to stop their operations. They refused, whereupon the British opened fire, killing some of the mutineers and wounding several others.

The German rearadmiral and most of the crews were taken into custody.

Three of the light cruisers and eighteen of the destroyers were beached by the British after their seacocks had been opened by the Germans. Four of the destroyers remained afloat.

The German fleet of seventy-one vessels was surrendered just seven months ago off the Firth of Forth. The warships were taken to Scapa Flow, where they have remained ever since pending decision by the allies as to their ultimate disposition. Skeleton German crews were permitted to remain on board as caretakers and without guard.

London, June 23.—Admiral von Reuter, commander of the surrendered German fleet, personally ordered its scuttling by their crews on the belief that the armistice had expired. He says so himself, according to the Daily Express, in the following message to the British commander:

"I ordered the sinking in the belief the armistice was terminated, and following the German navy's tradition which knows no surrender."

In the firing on boats in which German sailors escaped from the scuttled warships, six men were killed and ten wounded.

Washington, June 23.—High officials of the State and Navy departments say that the main aspect in the case of the sinking of the German fleet, is the punishment for the crime.

According to these officials there are three ways in which these men can be punished, provided that they were not ordered to act by the German government.

First—They can be tried by the local laws of England for the destruction of property.

Second—If guilty under these laws they can be detained in English prisons for life.

Third—The case may be referred to the interallied council as an act of war, a breach of the armistice and the men can be tried by military court martial and shot if the court so decide.

State Tries to Weaken Wilkins' Claim Wife Was Burglars' Victim

Mineola, N. Y., June 23.—Dr. W. Wilkins' claim that his wife was killed by burglars was attacked vigorously Friday by the persecution at his trial on a murder charge.

County Detective Carman Plant testified that a watch and a jeweled pin which Wilkins claimed the burglars took from him after they had killed his wife, were later found hidden. The pin was in Wilkins' coat, Plant said. The State claims Wilkins killed his wife, then made up the burglar story.

TRADES UNIONISM UPHELD

U. S. Chamber of Commerce Members Vote on Proposals

Washington, June 23.—Twelve principles of industrial relations have been indorsed by American employes as represented in the membership of the United States Chamber of Commerce. A canvass of a referendum vote announced today showed the proposal for a national employment system to have been the only article of 13 which failed to receive the two-thirds majority.

Underlying the cardinal principle that "the public interest requires adjustment of industrial relations by peaceful methods" were those declaring "the right of workers to organize" "that industrial harmony and prosperity will be most effectually promoted by adequate representation of the parties interested" and "that industrial relations agreements should be faithfully observed."

Other declarations approved were that wages should be "reduced only when the possibility of reduction of costs in all other directions has been exhausted"; that every man is entitled to an oportunity to earn a living wage and that "wages should be adjusted with due regard to their purchasing power."

Fixing of a basic day as a "device for increasing compensation" was held to be a "subterfuge that should be condemned."

W. L. Jump, at Hobbs, last Tuesday evening, duly armed with a marriage license, and asked him to perform the ceremony.

The minister was about to comply when the talkatve young miss remarked that her sister was not 18 years old and the marriage was a runaway affair. The Rev. Mr. Jump immediately refused to tie the knot and informed the father of the girls. That gentleman immediately went through all the motions of the traditional irate parent.

FOR WARFIELD PLAN

Virginia Bankers Endorse His Railroad Program

Norfolk, Va., June 23.—Financial circles in the South point with deep significance to the ation of the Virginia Bankers' Association, at the annual conventio nthat closed at Old Point Comfort Saturday, in unanimously indorsing the principles of the Warfield plan of the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities for the return of the railroads to private management as indictative of the sentiment in investment circles throughout the country concerning the future of the transportation companies.

The indorsement of the proposals made to Congress by the Baltimre financier who heads the largest organization of investors in the railroads is regarded as a complete rejection of the plea made by Interstate Commeree Commissioner Wooley, who in an address delivered before the Virginia bankers, urged an extension of the period of Government control of the railroads for a period of five years. Commissioner Wooley recommended extending the tenure of Government control of the railroads in order to eliminate this question from the reconstruction program.

The action of the Virginia bankers in indorsing the Warfield plan is in line with that taken by various other State bankers' associations, including Florida, Georgia, Tennessee, Pennsylvania, Maryland, South Carolina, Missouri, Michigan and New York.

TEACHER DIES ON TRAIN

Danvile, Va., June 23.—News was received here last night of the death of Miss Fay Carter, a teacher of English in the Danville public schools until a year ago, when she went to Camp Jackson as a nurse. She died on the train as she was nearing New York, where her father and mother, Doctor and Mrs. C. T. Carter ,were rushing her to Bellevue Hospital for treatment of an unusually virulent case of scarlet fever, developed here only a few days ago. The body was taken to Missouri for burial.

SHOT DEAD IN QUARREL

Cumberland, Md., June 23.—Raphael Caliento, aged 28, was found dead early yesterday morning by officers, seated in a chair on the porch of Antonio Somma, Ridgley, W. Va., opposite Cumberland, with three bullet wounds in his head and shoulders. Somma has disappeared. Both he and Caliento were employed on the track force of the WesternMaryland Railway. Caliento had paid ardent attention to Somma's 14-year-old daughter, with the result that the father demanded that he marry her. According to reports, Caliento demanded that $600 be setled upon him by the father and that certain property in Italy be made over to him. This request was refused, and in the quarrel that ensued in the Somma home, Caliento was shot three times. He staggered to the front porch, where fled.

SOLDIER HAD FULL DAY

Hagerstown, Md., June 23.—James Wagaman, Waynesboro, Pa., a United States soldier, had a varied experience, arriving home on a short furlough, getting married and paying a $11.70 fine for being drunk and disorderly—all inside of 24 hours. He was married to Miss Beulah Lowman, Shady Grove, Pa., in Hagerstown. Entering the court house for the license he ordered, in a dictatorial manner, a busy clerk to issue the document without delay. After the matrimonial knot was tied he returned to Waynesboro and wound up the day's festivities by getting arrested for being intoxicated, and paying a fine.

DR. PESSOA AT MT. VERNON

Secretary Daniels Hosts to Large Party of South American on Visit to Historic Spot

Washington, June 23.—Dr. Epitacio Pessoa, President-elect of Brazil, paid tribute yesterday to George Washington as "first in the hearts of all those who love liberty and democracy." In a touching ceremony before the tomb of Washington at Mt. Vernon, the next chief executive of Brazil acknowledged the debt of his country and the world to the first President of the United States. Accompanied by his daughter, he entered the mauseleum and, handing to her a wreath of laurel and flowers, bade her place it upon the marble sarcophagus.

Dr. Pessoa and a party of 175 Brazilian and United States officials were the guests of Secretary Daniels on the Presidential yacht Mayflower on the trip down the Potomac to Mt. Vernon. Arriving there, the party proceeded at once to the tomb of Washington, where Secretary Daniels presented Gov. Westmoreland Davis, of Virginia, who welcomed the Brazilian President-elect to the State. Dr. Pessoa acknowledged the welcome in a few words and then, turning to the remainder of the party said:

"I cannot but be most emotioned on nearing this monument. As a general Washington founded, and as a statesman consolidated the most beautiful democratic structure of the world. The spirit of his achievement illuminated the blessed halos, the aspirations of all the peoples of America. Washington is not only the first in the hearts of his countrymen, he is also the first in the hearts of all those who love liberty and democracy."

The ceremony of laying the wreath upon the sarcophagus followed. As the other members of the party turned to visit the Washington mansion, Dr. Pessoa was left alone for a moment facing the ivyclad tomb. With his face shade dby his hands, he looked steadily at the tomb for an instant, then lowered his eyes and showing deep emotion turned away to join Secretary Daniel and Governor Davis.

Dr. Pessoa when shown the elm tree planted by Dom Pedro, the last Emperor of Brazil in 1876 asked interestedly what kind of a tree it was. When he was told that the tree would live for many more years, he remarked:

"That is good. The shadow of a tree planted by a Brazilian will fall upon this sacred spot for centuries, I hope." The President-elect then called to his wife and daughter and pointed out the tree and soon they, with the other Brazilians of the party, were talking animatedly about it

After a visit to the home of Washington the party visited the grounds and Mrs. Pessoa was presented with a bouquet of flowers from the gardens.

LIVE IN BARNS

Weathy Serbians Take up Abodes in Stables and Henhouses

Some of the wealthiest residents of Serbia have been found living in stables and henhouses by American Red Cross officers, according to advices received in Washington.

People with even these scant roofs over their heads are more fortunate than refugees returning from Bulgarian detention camps, who discover their homes obliterated or destroyed beyond repair.

Rich residents of dozens of Serbian towns have been found sleeping under the stars on heaps of straw and covered with burlap. Families which had been comparatively wealthy before the war returned to their homes or the heaps of ruins which had been their homes penniless and with no clothing except that which they wore. In some cases the refugees, stripped of their remaining rags at the Bulgarian frontier after the armistice, made their way across Serbia in burlap bags in which Red Cross rice and food had been wrapped.

RIOT CAUSES KILLING

Martial Law Prevents Recurrence of Row in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Man., June 23.—Winnipeg was under martial law last night after rioting in which one man was reported killed and three others wounded by pistol shots. Other persons were injured by flying missiles, including a number of women and children. Mounted police patrolled the streets to prevent another outbreak.

The crowds were restive all Friday and in the afternoon a street car was attacked and set on fire. Firemen were assaulted when they arrived and rioting became geenral. Mayor Gray read the riot act and ordered the crowds to disperse.

The order was not generaly observed, and mounted police and soldiers charged, fining revolvers at intervals. The fire of the police was said to have been respnsible for the death of one man and seriously wounding of three others.

An effort to operate street cars in defiance of strikers was believed to have been the primary cause for the trouble.

MYSTIC CREED HITS REDS

Russian Peasants Consider Lenine Anarchist Foretold in Scripture

Paris, June 23.—The Soviet Government in Russia is combatting a religious movement, mystical in character, which has spread through the provinces of Moscow, Novogrod and Vladimir. One of the features of the movement, which is said to be strong among the peasants, according to advices received here, is that Premier Lenine is called the anarchist foretold in the Scriptures. The Bolsheviki, it is said, are opposing the movement by means of an active propoganda.

MOTORMEN AND FARES HURT IN CAR CRASH

New London, June 23.—A motorman and several passengers were injured today when two trolley cars crashed head-on in a collision on the east end road near Oswegatchie summer colony, four miles west of New London.

The motorman, Joseph Carufield, Pawtucket, R. I, was the most seriously injured, suffering a crushed skull. The motorman of the other car saved himself by jumping.

SHIFTING RESPONSIBILITY

Austria Says Hungary Forced Her Into War

St. Germain, June 23.—The Austrian delegation has sent a fourth note to the Peace Conference protesting against the German Austrian Republic "being made the heir of all the responsibilities of the Austro-Hungarian Empire, of which it was but the smaller, poorest, most peaceful and most liberal of States."

It points out that at the time war was declared in 1914 the Foreign Minister, his two principal collaborators and almost all of Austria's ambassadors were Hungarian and maintains that the "responsibility for the war is common to all the States forming the empire that has vanished."

The note expresses confidence that the "spirit of justice of the Conference will not let the whole burden be thrown upon German Austria."

Berne, June 21.—An official telegram to the Vienna Foreign Office, exonerating Serbia of responsibility for the Serajevo murder, has been published by Maximilian Harden in the Berlin Zukunft, as a part of the mass of evidence to show German responsibility for the war.

This telegram, dated July 13, 1914, states plainly that the Serbian Government, against which no evidence can be produced, has no responsibility for the murders.

This document, Herr Harden said, was concelled and ten days later the ultimatum to Serbia was presented. In addition, he said, seven days before it was drafted the Potsdam War Council already had arranged a plan of action in anticipation of Russia's intervention.

"Von Bethmann-Hollweg may have forgotten it," Herr Harden says, "but this decision was taken and registered on July 6, before the Kaiser left for the North, and he who had to choose between war and peace, had already chosen war. A hundred million individuals were thus deceived."

PLANTER IS SHOT DOWN

Baton Rouge, La., June 23.—Chas. A. Hutchinson, planter, was shot and killed at his home twenty miles from here Friday, by his son, Chas. Hutchinson, Jr. The killing is said to be the result of Hutchinson chastising one of his daughters during which he stabbed her. Mrs. Hutchinson intervened, it is said, and, when Hutchinson began to fight, his son picked up a shotgun and shot him in the head.

GIRL TOOK MURDER BLAME

Latter Safe From Pursuit, Young Woman Long in Jail Tells True Story of New Year Crime

Kane, Pa., June 23.—After shielding her father, James Decello, until the latter had made good his escape, Margaret Decello, a beautiful 16-year old Italian girl, Friday confessed that her father, and not she, shot and killed Tony Grecco, at the Decello home, on New Year's night.

Up to Friday the girl was charged with the murder, on her own confession that she killed Grecco when he attempted to assault her. Since the night of the murder she has been a prisoner at the county jail at Smethport, and was to be tried for the murder at the next term of court.

In making her confession, Miss Decello stated that her father killed Grecco because the latter was an all around bad man, a Black Hand operater, and had a number of Italians terrorized, among them being her father. Four weeks before the murder occurred Grecco came to the Decello home, the girl said, and under fear of his threats her father gave Grecco $50.

Since the night of the murder it has been the opinion that it was the the father and not the girl that did the shooting. It is thought that the girl's father is now in Italy.

DEATH OF BILL DEVERY

Former New York Police Chief Succumbs After Lightning Flash

New York, June 23.—William S. (Big Bill) Devery, former chief of police of New York City, and one of the most unique and picturesque characters American police forces have ever known, died suddenly Friday of apoplexy at his home in Far Rockaway, a Long Island suburb of New York.

He was 67 years old. Deverys stroke came at the instant of and possibly was caused by a blinding flash of lightning and an ear-splitting explosion of thunder. He died within a few minutes.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Bristol, Va., June 23.—Todd Fagins, aged 50, well known farmer, was struck and instantly killed by lightning while working in his wheat field near Piney Flats. He is survived by his widow, four sons, and one daughter.

LIGHTNING KILLS THREE

Also Sets Fire to Factory and Seriously Cripples Trolley System

Hazelton, Pa., June 23.—Mrs. Chas. Yurasieviz, 20 years old, a bride of five months, was instantly killed by a bolt of lightning during a severe electric storm Friday, while alone in the parlor of her hme. Overhead was an parlor of her home. Overhead was an draft pulled the discharge toward her. Two chairs, one on each side of the table, near which she was seated, were undisturbed.

Teresa Titer, aged 14, a berry packer, was killed by a bolt near Tomhicken, and her sister, Mary, was badly burned.

Fourteen-year-old Mary Pinter was struck by a bolt that hit her mother's home at McAdoo, and died instantly. Another bolt struck the W. B. Reed shirt factory and set fire to the motor that runs the machinery, causing considerable excitement among the employees, all of whom left the premises, however, without any panic. Electric wires were temporarily out of business and the trolley system was considerably hampered. Lightning hit the Walnut street school building, but caused only slight damage. Various other places were struck.

In line with our progressive banking methods, and to meet the demands of our patrons, we are installing on July 1st, an up-to-date Safe Deposit Department, under the personal supervision of one of our officers.

This has been made necessary from the fact that a large number of our depositors owning Liberty Bonds and other securities desire a safe place for their keeping.

It is our plan to enlarge the number of Safe Deposit Boxes, and make a rental charge to meet the operating expenses of this Department. This charge will become effective July 1st, 1919, and a bill will be sent out at that time to the holders of boxes, and if any desire to make any change we will be glad to have them call before the bills are rendered for the ensuing year.

The Good Will of an Army

The written and spoken word of American Army men, at home and abroad, has given the very name of Dodge Brothers Motor Car a new and a stirring significance.

THE VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA
Under the Leadership of
GENERAL AND MRS. BALLINGTON BOOTH

Dodge Automobile Company,
Detroit, Michigan. May 12, 1919.
Gentlemen:

Several times while traveling through France and Germany I was inspired to exclaim, "I really must write to the Dodge Company, when I get home and tell them what I think of their car". Now, that I am home that intention has not weakened. I have spent the whole of this winter in France and Germany amid the mud and rain and shell torn roads of the battle front, and later over the steep mountains and through the narrow gorges between the Luxenberg and the Rhine.

General Pershing gave me for my use while I served the A. E. F. a Dodge car. With my little company of entertainers I was enabled to go to many of the boys in isolated spots who had no transportation to send for me and would have gone without entertainments had I not had my own car. We traveled hundreds of miles, some times over almost impassible roads. We scaled mountains, where at every minute we feared our little car might balk at further pressure. We never had a moment's trouble. I can say most emphatically that the Dodge gave splendid service and held out where we had found other cars disabled by the road side.

When my service with the Army was through and I had to return the car to them I felt as if I was parting with a personal friend and wished that it could run me down to Brest and be taken aboard the transport and sail for home with me.

From what I have heard from many sources I believe that others have had just as successful experiences with the Dodge at the front as we have had.

Believe me,
Very cordially yours,
(Signed) MAUD B. BOOTH.

BOY SLAYERS CONFESS CRIME

Killed 7 Year Old Cowherd Who Refused to Give Them Sandwiches

Scranton, Pa., June 23.—Two of the youngest slayers in the history of Lackawanna county are being held by the authorities. They are 10 year old Oliver Deider and 14 year old Johnny Dell, both of Olyphant. They have confessed that they shot and killed Peter Knapp, seven years old, Saturday evening in a lonely field when he refused to give them some jam sandwiches he was eating.

The youthful prisoners in their confession to the District Attorney, state that they stole a large pistol from the barracks of the State police yesterday and went out into the woods. They were going along the the road when they saw the Knapp boy sitting by the roadside eating a sandwich and caring for cows. The two boys aimed the revolver at the little fellow and commanded him to throw up his hands., The Knapp boy turned his head and began to cry.

CYCLONE LEVELS HOMES

Fergus Falls, Minn., Struck by Storm Which Takes Train From Tracks

St. Paul, Minn., June 23.—Reports of a severe cyclone yesterday afternoon at Fergus Falls with more than 100 homes leveled in that city, were received here last night. A Great Northern train was blown from the tracks twenty-one miles west of Fergus Falls, only the engine and one car remaining on the tracks. Reports said three were killed.

Railroad men on trains returning from the vicinity of Fergus Falls said reports were that 200 may have been killed in the cyclone. It was reported that the Grand Hotel at Ferand that seventy-five persons had been buried in the ruins.

A report from Staples to the Northern Pacific here said that the hotel had been razed by the wind and the Northern Pacific depot demolished.

Shortly before midnight a severe electrical and windstorm accompanied by a heavy rainfall struck the Twin Cities, further interfering with telegraph and telephone service.

The train which was blown from the track of the Great Northern was the Westbound Oriental Limited, crack train of the railroad. It runs between Chicago and Seattle, using the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy tracks between St. Paul and Chicago.

JUDGE REBUKES STRIKERS

Tells Packing House Employees They Give Unionism Black Eye

Chicago, June 23.—Warning that every strike or walkout in violation of the union agreement with the Government was a nail in the coffin of collective bargaining, was voiced by vestigation Saturday of labor difficulties in Chicago packing plants. After hearing several union employees of Wilson & Co. explain their grievances, he said:

"Every time you men walk out as you have done in the past 10 days you are violating a contract between you and the Government and giving unionism a black eye. You are embarrassing your officials in their efforts to carry out their agreement."

The investigation was started at the instance of certain packers who complained to the Judge that the union men were not living up to the wage and working conditions award which he gave as arbitrator a year ago.

MYSTERIOUS ATTACK

Found Dying With Fractured Skull And Other Injuries, Footprints Showing Two Assailants

Wilmington, Del., June 23.—His skull crushed, shoulderblades broken and his head a mass of cuts and bruises, Samuel Bradley, 76 years old, a night watchman at the Delaware Mills of the Jessup & Moore Paper Company, on the Christiana River, at Madison street, was found in a dying condition at 1 o'clock Saturday morning. The aged man was the victim of an attack by two men, according to the police, and detectives who are at work on the case, but what prompted the assault is a mystery. The only clew left by the assailants, who used a club measuring at least five feet in length is their footprints.

That robbery was not the motive of the crime is the belief of the police as they found $208 in money pinned to Bradley's undershirt after he was taken to the Delaware Hospital. Whether the assailants had any designs on the plant is unknown but officials there said that they had no labor troubles and none of the employes had been discharged recently.

BOLT KILLS THREE

Matthew Resch, Edward Langell and latters son, Edward Jr., Jr., all of this city, were those slain by the lightning. The three were on their way from Elbon to this city when the severe storm broke. All sought refuge under a tree, which was struck by a bolt of lightning, splitting its way down the trunk. Another accident which may prove fatal was that of Guy Talbot, a fire man on the Pittsburgh, Shawmut & Northern Railroad. When the storm broke out Talbot was on the tender, helpong coal the engine. Lightning struck the tipple and Talbot was thrown unconscious to the ground. He was brought to this city, where his condition is critical.

GUNS BOOM IN COBLENZ

Germans Celebrate Corpus Christi Day in Ancient Style.

Coblenz, June 23.—German cannon boomed in Coblenz today in connection with the religious celebration of Corpus Christi Day, permission having been granted by the Americans to fire a certain number of shots, according to ancient custom, during the bestowal of the sacramental benediction as the procession passed through the streets. During the hours of the procession the movements of American supply trucks, on their way to the east bank of the Rhine in connection with the troops concentration due to the uncertainty of the peace situation were diverted to other routes by the military police.

Blank charges in mortars, relics of the eighteenth century, were fired at the moment of the benediction near altars at different points as the procession moved through the streets, the shots echoing and re-echoing among the hills along the Rhine, which swarmed with khaki-clad soldiers preparing to advance farther into Germany if the peace conditions are finally rejected.

Not desiring to interfere in any way with the religious celebrations the Americans not only suspended traffic in certain of the principal streets of Coblenz, but supplied powder for charging the mortars fired by the priests. The Corpus Christi procession was not held last year due to fear of daylight bombing raids by Allied aviators.

REAR-END COLLISION

Atlantic Coast Line Passenger Train Struck Near Jacksonville by Freight

Jacksonville, Fla., June 23.—The delay of the passenger train No. 88, of the Atlantic Coast Line, on its way to Jacksonville from St. Peters burg, at the Santa Fe trestle, about sixty miles south of Jacksonville, at an early hour Thursday morning because of a fire on the trestle, resulted in a rear-end collision when a northbound log-train, unaware of the hold up of the passenger train ahead of it, crashed into it. Eight passengers and two of the crew were more or less seriously injured.

WANTS A "SQUARE DEAL"

Greece, Roumania, Poland and Serbia Declared Ready for Break

Paris, June 23.—Into the general feeling of optimism that has been created by the last twenty-four hours news from Weimar, a note of gloom is injected by the apparent widening of the split in the allied ranks, all the disgruntled little nations banding together as a formidable unit against the "Big Five," especially against Italy.

Premier Bratianu, of Roumania, is understood to be the leader in this movement to have Greece, Poland, Roumania, Serbia and others break away from the Peace Congress and arraign themselves against the five big powers as well as the league of nations until, as they term it, they are given a "square deal."

This sensational step was actually planned for three weeks ago and would have come to pass but for the influence of Venizelos, the Greek premier, who counselled "watchful waiting" for a short time.

However, the rift is widening and the situation is approaching a crisis, for these main reasons:

1.—The Italian attitude on the Dalmation question as against the Jugo-Slavs and Serbs, and accumulating charges that Italy is giving aid and comfort to the Austro-German armies now fighting the Jugo-Slavs.

2.—Open hostilities by Italy against Greece in occupying certain Balkar regions.

3.—The "Big Four's settlement of the Upper Silesian question contrary to Poland's demands.

4.—Roumania's bitter hostility to the "Big Four's" agreement, as the Roumanians see it, "to go over the heads of individual small nations and take care of small religious and political bodies within those nations."

Already there are rumblings here of immediate war against Italy by this proposed new entente of small nationalities.

IRISH CHARGES TRUE, SAYS SINN FEIN CHIEF

Dublin, June 23.—Arthur Griffith, acting president of the Sinn Fein, declared in an interview today that all seventeen of the specific charges in the Walsh-Dunne report are "true and accurate," and that Chief Secretary Macpherson's reply is "false in every particular."

Griffith said that publication of depositions exposing these "falsehoods" has been forbidden in Ireland. He claimed that Francis Gallagher, engaged in taking depositions to bear out the charges of atrocities made by Frank Walsh and Edward Dunne, was arrested and imprisoned.

WHITE MEN KILL NEGRO

Four are Arrested for Alleged Crime in Alabama

Centerville, Ala., June 23.—Charged with being members of a party of white men who, after seizing a negro, forced him to stand on a stump, where he was shot to death, four white men were lodged in the county jail at midnight Thursday, and a special jury of the Bibb County Court has been summoned for June 23 to investigate the affair.

The alleged murder occurred near Green Pond, Ala., and it is declared that other negroes in that section were maltreated by the same parties. Trouble between the two races ocurred at Woodstock, near the scene of the above shooting early in the week.
